WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN.

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over forty years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment cures in the privacy of your home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands of bad cases. It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., — take his advice and be well.

Mrs. R. D. Monfort, of Lebanon, Warren Co., O., writes: "I have received the 'Medical Adviser.' A crisp, new five dollar bill could not tempt me to part with it."

On receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, to pay cost of mailing only, we will send to any address a paper-bound copy of Dr. Pierce's great 1000-page book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser." Or, for 31 stamps the same in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Pierce's Pleasant Pellets

The Original LITTLE LIVER PILLS, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. Little pill, Little dose, but give great results in a curative way in all derangements of Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It allays itching instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

are caused by Indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of Indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.

Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.
MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

Storms and Floods.

Severe rain and an electrical storm wrought damage to the extent of more than $100,000 at an early hour yesterday morning in Huntington, W. Va., and vicinity. In three hours' time the government gauge showed almost five inches of rainfall. The streets and avenues of Huntington were miniature rivers, and hundreds of stores and private homes were flooded, the water standing many inches deep on the floors. Bridges were washed away, telegraph and telephone wires wrecked, live stock drowned, and barns and outbuildings washed away along the banks of smaller tributaries of the Ohio. Never in local history was so much damage wrought in so short a time by rainfall.

The electrical storm which accompanied the rainfall started three fires in Huntington alone, but the flames were extinguished without great loss. The extent of the damage south of Huntington is known to be heavy.

Three children of Enos Adkins, living on a creek near Ranger, were drowned in a flooded stream Tuesday night. The family was aroused from sleep when water crept up around the house. To escape the rush of water, that three children were placed on a horse, while Mr. and Mrs. Adkins mounted another, and started through the darkness to the home of Adkins' brother, half a mile away.

At a ford just below the Adkins home the horse bearing the children stumbled and was carried down the stream. The three children, the eldest of whom was eleven and the youngest seven years of age, were carried away with the horse and drowned.

A cloudburst a few miles east of Bristol, Tenn., yesterday afternoon caused a twelve-foot rise in Beaver creek, flowing through Bristol. Industrial plants and some business houses were flooded, doing damage to the amount of several thousand dollars. Families residing near the creek had to flee to places of safety. It was the highest flood since 1857. Railway trestles were damaged and trains delayed.

A score of persons were injured in St. Louis and East St. Louis yesterday as the result of a violent wind and rain storm, which followed 10 minutes of sudden darkness. Two persons were blown from roofs, many were injured by falling roofs and one man was hurt in a stairway crush, caused by a panic in the Louisville and Nashville freight office. The wind caused much damage on both sides of the Mississippi river. Buildings were unroofed, chimney tops were blown over and suspended signs were torn loose and sent rattling along the streets. During the darkness the wind reached a velocity of 48 miles an hour.

Hanged Man Made Signs.

In order to deal capital punishment in the State of New Jersey a staggering blow before the next legislature of that State Rev. Emil A. Meury, pastor of the Second Reformed Church in Jersey City, whose observations in the past, he declares, have proved to him conclusively that a man retains consciousness, memory and the power of voluntary motion even after his neck has been broken by the drop from the gallows, will serve on the sheriff's jury in the Hudson county jail today at the hanging of Edward Tapeley, a negro wife murderer.

Rev. Mr. Meury cites the results of astonishing observations he made at the hanging, on April 13, 1897, of Paul Genz, which also occurred in the Hudson county jail.

He witnessed the hanging after making an arrangement with the prisoner whereby Genz was to make certain signals with his hands after the drop had fallen for the purpose of proving to the minister's satisfaction that capital punishment entailed untold conscious suffering on the victim even after his neck had been broken.

"Genz was certain he would be conscious after his neck was broken," said the clergyman. "He said to me: 'Watch me closely. After my body is jerked upward and I fall to the rope's end and my neck is broken I will wait about a minute, then I will close my hands twice, then once, then twice again. I arrange this signal now so that none of the doubters who may be looking at me can say that my movements are only involuntary twitchings.'

"When Genz fell after being jerked into the air by the rebound his body stiffened, and about three-quarters of a minute passed. Then Genz clinched his hands twice, opened them again, closed them once, then twice again. I distinctly saw his pinioned hands make the signal he said he would give me. So did six other men to whom I had told Genz's promise of what he would do. The horror of it was almost over whelming."

Colic and Diarrhoea—A Remedy that is Prompt and Pleasant.

The prompt results produced by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy together with its pleasant taste have won for it a place in many households. Mr. W. T. Taylor, a merchant of Winslow, Ala., writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy myself and also with men on my place, for diarrhoea and colic and it always gives relief promptly and pleasantly." Perfection Mosquito and Fly Canopies.

Why be annoyed by mosquitos and flies when it can be prevented by a very small expense and no trouble?

We call special attention to the fact that the "Perfection" 5-coil canopy springs have been THOROUGHLY TESTED in tension, action, power and endurance, and found that they will lift any grade new net to a perpendicular position against the head board, and will also undergo the strain of being fastened down, day and night, continuously for many months without showing signs of weakness, when properly adjusted. They are small in diameter; noiseless in operation; look neat and pretty; are not clumsy nor in the way; are strong and durable, and the most perfect canopy springs ever put on the American market.

Made in all sizes and can be adjusted to either metal or wood beds.

Have us put one up for you, and after one week's trial if not entirely satisfactory we will take it down and refund your money.

Electrocuted in Midair.

William L. Tyler, a lamptrimmer employed by the Norfolk, Portsmouth and Newport News Company, was electrocuted in midair at Second and Lincoln streets, South Portsmouth, last night. He had mounted a pole to relight an arc lamp, and evidently grasped a heavily charged wire. Residents were startled by the bright glare in the air, and saw Tyler's form outlined in the darkness as he grasped the wire, and a moment later saw him fall heavily to the ground, about 50 feet below. About 2,300 volts passed through the body. He was formerly of Richmond, and leaves a wife and child. Tyler was 26 years old.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight, to tell, that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists at 50c a bottle.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, AUG. 17, 1905.

AN INCIDENT in connection with the Willard meeting at the Opera House last night was the distribution of a circular signed "Voter" and dated "Winchester, Va., July 20, 1905," attacking Senator Martin and lauding his would-be successor, Governor Montague. The document would fill about two of the Gazette's columns. Life being abbreviated at both ends and contracted in the middle, it is safe to say that but few people possess the necessary patience and interest to peruse it, and should any one sacrifice the time necessary for such a procedure, no reward will result, from the fact that the production will not add a whit to knowledge, nor is it calculated to make any one laugh or cry. The writer is apprehensive and seems pressed with imaginary impending contingencies. He says:

In the event of a crisis in which the State of Virginia or the nation might be imperiled, we want a man in the United States Senate who is the equal of any man in that body of great men. We want a man who is not only a great man personally, but a man who is a polished and finely educated man, with vast legal and oratorical powers, who, when he talks or speaks, will command the attention and highest regard of all great men with whom he may be associated, and who will be able to impress himself in such a manner as to easily carry his policies into practical and permanent effect. Such a man as I have described is rarely given to any State or people; he is given to a State about once in a life-time; and when any people find they have such a man they should not only be proud of him, but they should admire and honor him and never lose an opportunity to place him in the foremost ranks where he will ever reflect the highest credit upon his people and his State.

The author of the circular assumes that Gov. Montague fills the bill to a nicety. He asks: "What was Mr. Martin at the time he was first elected to the United States Senate?" and answers the question in the following stereotyped language borrowed from Governor Montague. "He was simply an ordinary attorney and but little known of in Virginia." Patrick Henry was at one time a country lawyer with neither State nor national fame. He won his way, notwithstanding this fact, as Mr. Martin has done, despite the hostility of envious people who desire to step into his shoes. The following excerpts from the circular need no comment, as their ridiculousness is apparent enough:

Every one who knows Mr. Martin is aware of the fact that he is a man of only ordinary ability and capacity as a United States Senator, and that in the declining years of Senator Daniel, Mr. Martin is rather a weak representative for Virginia to lean upon in many questions of dispute constantly before the U. S. Senate. With two years experience in the U. S. Senate, Mr. Montague would be thrice more powerful in the U. S. Senate than Mr. Martin could ever be. * * * Mr. Martin has had the Senatorship long enough; he did not deserve it in the first instance; and he less deserves it now when a man like Mr. Montague is offering his services to the people in connection with this important office.

There are often instances where a man has reason to exclaim, "Deliver me from my friends." The circular referred to is calculated to do Governor Montague more harm than good, and brings to mind the moral of the old fable in which a bear attempted to keep flies off a sleeping man for whom the animal had formed a friendship.

THE GATHERING last night at the Opera House was a genuine ovation to Mr. Joseph E. Willard, one of the candidates for Governor of the State of Virginia. The committee had anticipated everything and the programme was carried out without a hitch. The audience was composed of representative gentlemen and ladies of Alexandria, Washington, Fairfax and Alexandria counties, and the speeches of ex-Mayor Simpson and Mr. Willard were well-conceived and equally well-delivered. Mr. Willard is a pleasing speaker and the meeting was entirely satisfactory to his Alexandria friends. There is no vital issue at present in the State, and the three gentlemen who are asking the support of voters say they have no claim upon suffragans, the trio being animated solely by an honest passion to fill the gubernatorial chair. It is, after all, a matter of choice, and no matter who may secure the nomination the State will be safe, provided all, victorious and disappointed alike, vie in preventing the State from committing a stupendous folly by selecting a man for Governor who is not a democrat.

IN AN interview at Springfield, O., yesterday, Assistant Secretary of State Loomis indicated his intention to quit the State Department, but expects to be given a diplomatic post. Under no other administration than the present could he hold a position of any kind—taking into consideration the scandals with which his name has been connected.

IT IS heralded from Richmond that Mr. "Buck" Royal will issue a call for a mass meeting of citizens to demand [illegible] of the grand jury which recently investigated the primary election held in that city. This would indicate that Richmond is in a bad way for leaders.

IT IS reported in Washington that the Panama Canal Commission has learned that a movement against the canal is forming, with a view to preventing its construction. The fight against the completion of the canal is to be made at the next session of Congress. The purpose of the officials is to convince Congress and the country that the Panama route is impracticable—a fact claimed to be proven by the experience of America and France. The alternative proposition will be the abrogation of the treaty with Panama and the adoption of the Nicaraguan route. From the experience this government has had with the canal construction during the past two years talk of a purposed change of route need hardly cause surprise.

THE establishment of commissariats for the benefit of the canal employes by the Isthmian Commission in various parts of the canal zone is causing a feeling of great dissatisfaction among Panama and Colon merchants. An indignation meeting was held in Panama yesterday evening to protest against this action, and an appeal will be made to President Amador to intervene in the merchants' behalf. There seems to be no end of the troubles growing out of this canal business.

THE NAMES of Mr. H. St. George Tucker and Judge R. T. W. Duke are already being mentioned in connection with the Governorship in 1909. No doubt either would make an excellent executive, but for the love of grace let us be off with one election before we are on with another.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., August 17.

Attacks upon the validity of the election of every Philadelphia member of Congress are to be made by the democratic minority at the opening of the session in December. Representative Burleson, of Texas, who is now in this city, is preparing resolutions and data to be used in assailing the right of "Father" Bingham, "Bertie" Adams, George Castor and all the other Philadelphia representatives to sit as members of the lower house. Gross election frauds will be the ground upon which the validity of these titles will be contested. Mr. Burleson will have the backing of every democratic member, and before the session ends next June the House may have to wash out all the dirty linen of Philadelphia's padded assessment rolls and stuffed ballot-boxes.

The Society of American Florists at their session today elected the following officers: W. F. Kasting, of Buffalo, president; H. M. Altick, of Dayton, O., vice president; William J. Stewart, of Boston, secretary. A committee was appointed to prepare a text-book for use in the public schools.

Through Third Assistant Secretary of State Peirce, the peace envoys have received from the State Department stores here a supply of parchment "sufficient for the preservation of a number of treaties," as an official of the department said. Early this week a requisition was received from Mr. Peiree for a quantity of stationery, including a supply of parchment. The materials were immediately expressed to Portsmonth. The parchment is of the kind used by the various governments for treaties and its requisition indicates that there will be no lack of proper materials if M. Witte and Baron Komura wish to put an agreement in lasting form.

Announcement is made by the Carnegie Institution that it has just sent out from San Francisco an expedition to make a magnetic survey of the North Pacific Ocean. Dr. L. A. Bauer is in charge of the work. A clockwise spiral course of 70,000 miles will be taken. It is estimated that three years will be required to finish the task and that it will cost $25,000. The present magnetic charts over this region are said to have been made up practically from coast and island observations, and many electrical disturbances of grave importance to mariners are not shown.

Secretary Bonaparte has received from Admiral Bradford, commander of the Pacific station, preliminary reports on the investigation of the Bennington disaster. The secretary is studying these reports in anticipation of the final report of the board of inquiry, which will be received here tomorrow or Saturday. Until that is received, there will be no publication of the findings.

Train Crashed Into Trolley Car.

Three men were killed and ten were injured last night, when a fast through express from New York to Cincinnati on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern crashed into a Winton Place trolley car in Winton Place, a suburb of Cincinnati. All the killed lived in Winton Place. According to some witnesses of the wreck, John Driscoll, gate tender, had let the gates down to allow a freight train to pass. The locomotive of the freight emitted heavy clouds of smoke, preventing the gatekeeper from seeing the passenger train bearing down at high speed, and he raised the gates. The locomotive struck the back part of the street car, demolishing it. The locomotive and a mail car were thrown from the track, plowing through a truck garden and demolishing three small buildings. The motorman and the conductor of the srreet car jumped to safety, but all the passengers were either killed or injured. Fireman Brown jumped, but Engineer Spaulding stuck to his post and was scalded by steam. Mail Clerk Newton was the only other person on the train to be injured.

Russian Loan.

London, Aug. 17.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from St. Petersburg says that a prominent banker there has confirmed the reports that a Russian loan has been concluded in America. It is stated that important supplementary dispatches were sent to M. Witte, the senior Russian envoy to the peace conference, yesterday. The feeling in regard to the outcome of the peace negotiations is generally becoming more optimistic.

Pennsylvania Quarry Accident.

Allentown, Pa. Aug. 17.—According to the statement of the officials of the company, seventeen men were buried in the cave-in that occured yesterday in the Lehigh Portland Cement Company, at Omrod. Eleven were buried under the great mass of debris and all their bodies have been recovered, the last one being taken out this morning. Of the six men taken out alive, one died at the Allentown hospital, at midnight, making the total number of dead twelve, and the number of injured five. The wounds of the latter are all serious, but the men, it is stated, will probably recover. General Manager Matcham, of the company, this morning gave out a statement in which he says that the slide was caused by wet weather. The rock was limestone, which had become separated from the cement strata. It weighed four thousand tons. It is declared that the quarry was a dangerous one, and coroner Scheirer will make a full investigation.

Taggart Case.

Wooster, Ohio, Aug. 17.—Without introducing a word of testimony, attorneys for Mrs. Taggart will ask, today, or tomorrow, that she be granted the divorce both seek. This application is to be based on the claim that Captain Taggart's own admission on the stand and his admissions in the letters he wrote to his wife, after their separation, are sufficient for the granting of a divorce to Mrs. Taggart on the grounds of extreme cruelty. In those letters Taggart seemed to assume all blame for the trouble that lead to the separation.

Mrs. Taggart has nerved herself to take the stand and look forward to it with a cheerful confidence. Her attorneys, in the event their motion is refused by Judge Eason, are ready to start their side of the case tomorrow.

Favors Maximum and Minimum Tariffs.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—Resolutions favoring a maximum and minimum tariff were drawn up today by the committee on resolutions of the national reciprocity convention, and will be presented to the assemblage during the day. These resolutions advocate a form of reciprocity which will give a low tariff to nations favoring the United States commercially and a high tariff to those countries which discriminate in their tariffs against the United States. The convention will name a national committee to keep the movement alive and endeavor to reach the ear of Congress as to the needs of the country.

Tangier, Morocco, Aug. 17.—The announcement from Fez that the Sultan has formally refused to accede to the demands of the French minister for the release of the chief of the Algerian settlement at Ghard, who was arrested on account of local trouble, has been received here by other Algerians with dismay, and alarm. Algerians who have established themselves here are afraid they will be deprived of their liberty, and they have made an appeal to the Minister for protection. The situation is regarded as serious.

Human Footprint in Wood.

Pottsville, Pa., August 17.—The first human imprint ever found in anthracite coal was uncovered by Michael Sincavage, a miner at Eagle Hill Colliery, yesterday, the fossil being a man's footprint. Fossils of snakes, ferns, etc., have been plentiful: but this is the first evidence that prehistoric man was in existence in this country during the formation of the coal beds. The imprint, it is estimated, must have been made 10,000 years ago.

FIREMEN'S CONVENTION.

The first day of the nineteenth annual convention and tournament of the Virginia State Volunteer Firemen's Association met in Harrisonburg yesterday with 108 delegates present. The preliminary session was held in the afternoon and the business session and the final one at evening.

An address of welcome was delivered by Mayor O. B. Roller, on behalf of the town, and by Mr. George N. Conrad, on behalf of the local firemen. The official response on behalf of the association was made by Capt. R. S. Parks, of Luray. Captain Redwood, chief of the Richmond department, also replied. He introduced Chief McNeal, of Fayetteville, N. C., president of the National Association of Fire Chiefs. His speech was an argument in favor of a pension to disabled firemen.

The report of the committee on credentials showed that the following companies had severed their connection with the association; Independent Fire Company, of Portsmouth; Park View Engine Company, of Portsmouth; Annex Company, of Norfolk county; Rouse Hook Ladder Company, of Winchester. The Lynchburg and Strasburg Fire Departments were admitted to membership.

The principal business transacted was the selection of Richmond as the next meeting place, the meeting to be held on the fourth Wednesday in August. This was won in a contest with Covington, the vote being 60 to 31. The report of the secretary showed a membership of 1,250.

A resolution was adopted making the association a member of the National Firemen's Association.

Fatal Shooting Affray.

J. A. Meade was shot and instantly killed yesterday morning, at Naugatuck, W. Va, in a quarrel with Jacob Marcum, a Norfolk and Western telegraph operator at Naugatuck. While Meade was shooting at Marcum, the men standing not over six feet apart and firing through a window of the Norfolk and Western passenger station, a stray bullet struck Dr. J. R. Keeses and penetrated his abdomen. His death is hourly expected. Keeses was rushing toward the men with a hope of separating them before either was fatally shot, as both men were friends of his. Marcum received a bullet in his right arm, but continued shooting, and killed his antagonist. The trouble is said to have occurred in connection with a young woman of Naugatuck with whom both were infatuated. Meade, the young man who was killed, was thirty years old and a son of Magistrate James H. Meade, of Mingo county. Marcum formerly lived in Roanoke, Va. Dr. Keeses is a native of Wayne county, but only a few months ago graduated from the Louisville Medical College and located at Naugatuck.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Peace Conference.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 17.—The crucial moment in the peace negotiations has arrived. Less than 24 hours may develop whether the work of the representatives of Russia and Japan, who have been here only a little over a week, will come to naught. Seven of the twelve Japanese demands have been agreed to. Five yet remain. As important as the others were by themselves, they occupy a secondary position in comparison with those which were taken up at today's meeting.

The framework of an agreement, having been erected, it will be but a short time before it is determined whether the structure shall be completed or destroyed. The punitive demands of Japan were left to consideration to the last. They are the ones to come up today. In the Russian estimation they bear directly upon the question of national honor and dignity. It was early declared that while Russia desired peace, she would do nothing to leave a stain upon her escutcheon.

These demands are: The limitation of Russian naval armament in the far East; the surrender to Japan of the Russian warships interned in French, Chinese and American ports; the cession of the island of Saghalin; the opening of the Siberian fisheries to Japanese competition; the reimbursement of Japan for the cost of the war. The latter proposition is No. 9, of the Japanese demands.

In many quarters it is believed that the Washington peace conference will come to a futile end Friday night or Saturday.

There are not lacking, however, among the observers here many who still have confidence in the ability of the envoys to find a solution of the vexed questions now confronting them, and envolve a "just and lasting" peace from the present discouraging situation.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 17.—For the first time since his arrival here Aimeru Sato, chief secretary of the Japanese envoys, and their spokesman, has expressed a positive opinion as to the outcome of the pending peace negotiations. In the course of an interview with a representative of the Publishers' Press, Mr. Sato declared he believed that peace would result from the present conferences.

"Are you satisfied with the progress that is being made?" he was asked.

"Yes. We are getting along fast."

"You were rather pessimistic the other day?"

"Yes, I was."

"What do you think now?"

"I think there will be peace."

"What makes you think so?"

"It is just my own personal opinion."

Asked as to the report that the protocols, which have been drafted and signed covering the Japanese demands that have been agreed to, were to be considered merely as "bases" upon which a subsequent treaty might be drawn up, Mr. Sato said that the language of the protocols would be the language of the treaty; in other words, that the protocols had been prepared with the idea of embodying them in any treaty that might be signed.

Mr. Sato admitted that it was the intention to take up all the clauses before going back to the disputed point passed the other day—Saghalin.

As for the report that the conference might adjourn from here to some other place, Mr. Sato merely remarked:

"This place is good enough."

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 17.—M. Witte before he left for the navy yard, this morning, in reply to a question by the Publishers' Press correspondent, said:

"We expect to take up today articles 9, 10, 11 and 12 and perhaps, article 5, which we passed over the other day. Those matters are in a manner co-related. They touch each other in such fashion that we believe we can handle them altogether."

"Can you give us an idea as to how long the conference will continue, sir?"

"No, I am not good at guessing," smilingly answered the Russian statesman.

"Would it be advisable for me to secure a steamer passage for next week?" asked a foreign correspondent, who was present.

"You might get a better steamer if you would wait in New York for a week or so longer," was the response.

M. Witte would give no indication as to the nature of the articles, nor as to his opinion as to what action would be taken upon them.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 17.—An interesting statement is made here today regarding the recent visit to M. Witte of the Jewish bankers, Jacob Schiff, of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Isaac N. Seligman, of the firm of Seligman Brothers, and Adolph Lewisohn, all of whom are Wall street financiers, with connections extending to most of the great money kings of Europe and America. It is the effect that in a diplomatic way, they delivered practically an ultimatum to the Czar through M. Witte, that Russia would not be permitted to negotiate another foreign loan for any purpose unless definite promises were given in advance that the restrictive laws of Russia against the Jew should be repealed, and equal rights extended to all Jewish citizens of the empire. It is understood that the great banking houses of the Rothschilds in Europe and of the Belmonts and Speyers in this country lent their influence to the committee that called upon M. Witte, and that unless the Russian governmet meets the demands made it will find all of the financial avenues of the world closed to it.

The first official word that came from the conference was telephoned by Mr. Korostovicz at 1:15 o'clock in the form of the following statement:

"At the morning session of the conference of August 17, the plenipotentiaries discussed article 9.

"Not being able to reach a unanimous decision, the conference decided to record the divergence of views, and proceeded to the discussion of the remaining articles. The conference took a recess until three o'clock."

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 17.—The peace envoys have disagreed on the question of reimbursing Japan for its expenditures. The announcement that comes from the conference room furnishes a gleam of hope that they may later be able to reach some satisfactory understanding even upon this point.

There is high authority for the belief that the decision of the envoys today sounds the death knell of peace negotiations, and that the consideration of the other questions will be a mere formality, carried on for the express purpose of completing the minutes of the conference.

London, Aug. 17.—Chozo Kioke, secretary of the Japanese embassy to Great Britain, today gave the following interview to the correspondent of the Publishers' Press on the subject of the peace negotiations, which are now in progress at Portsmouth: "There is a difference of opinion among the members of our embassy in regard to the outcome of the peace negotiations. Several members of the staff believe that the negotiations will fall through, but I consider that a successful conclusion is very probable. Russia is decisively beaten and must make peace, for it is impossible for her to continue the war successfully. Japan will not recede from her demands in regard to Saghalin and for an indemnity. I believe that when Russia realizes this, she will accept the inevitable."

Yellow Fever.

New Orleans, Aug. 17.—The Board of Trade has taken the initiative in establishing an organization, the object of which is to secure a pure water supply at the earliest possible date and to abolish the antiquated system of above the ground cisterns. Large quantities of mosquito screen wire are now arriving by express. It is now officially declared that there are nine cases of yellow fever in Mississippi city. It is stated the fever has been there right along, but has been mistaken for malarial fever. The result of the announcement is that Mississippi has again tightened up all of her quarantine restrictions. About 30 more new cases were reported yesterday, unofficially, from country parishes. This would make about 154 cases altogether. There were 66 cases and four deaths reported yesterday. There have been a total of 1,146 cases and 176 deaths, with 441 cases still under treatment. Infection is not spreading into new localities, and the low death rate is removing what little of terror there was in the minds of the more timid citizens.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 17.—The report to the State board of health from Mississippi City today states that no yellow fever cases have appeared since yesterday. Nine patients are now under treatment.

Heard Cry from Grave?

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 17.—Four women passing St. Augustine's cemetery yesterday afternoon and talking of the death of Annie Bedner, who was asphyxiated at the residence of Augustus Perthal on Sunday night, declared that they were startled by the voice of the dead girl crying out: "Oh, Holy Christ." This was repeated several times, it was claimed. Mrs. John Halchak was one of the women and she and her companions ran to their homes and told of the strange cry from Annie Bedner's grave. An hour later there were all kinds of rumors about the Slavonian quarter here that Annie had been buried alive, and was crying out from her tomb for liberation. Fully a thousand persons hurried to the cemetery to hear the voice and to insist upon the grave being opened. Several policemen were required to keep back the crowd that flooked around the grave last night. A relative of the dead girl insisted upon the remains of the dead girl being exhumed, which was done, and the corpse found in the same state as when interred. Mrs. Halchak, when questioned, said the cemetery sexton told her he heard the voice, but the latter denied saying anything of the kind.

Disastrous Wreck.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 17.—A disastrous wreck is reported to have occurred this afternoon at Boone station, Va., four miles from this place. An excursion train on the Atlantic Coast Line from Rocky Mount, N. C., bound for Norfolk was derailed and it is reported that three cars filled with passengers were rolled into a deep ditch filled with water alongside. Many are reported to have been killed or injured. All available physicians have been rushed to the scene. Only meager details have yet been received at the offices of the road in this city.

At 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, two killed and thirty injured had been removed from the wreck, and it was reported that several other bodies were unrecovered. The accident is said to have been due to the train running into an open draw over the west branch of the Elizabeth river. The engine and one car were entirely submerged, and two cars were only partially covered with water. The cars contained 169 passengers. One of the killed was Promoter Jolly, who had charge of the excursion.

The Elephant Jumped.

Indianapolis, Aug. 17.—Robinson's circus train was in collision with a fast freight on the Big Four Railroad, near Brookville, yesterday morning, demolishing both engines and wrecking some of the cars of the circus train. The engine drivers and firemen on both engines jumped and none of them were hurt.

Nearly all the employes of the circus company were in bed when the accident occurred, and were thrown out on the floor of the coach. Some of them were seriously hurt.

The trainer of the trick elephant, Tillie, was in the car with her and saw the freight train coming. Seeing that a collision was inevitable he yelled, "Jump, Tillie, jump!" The little elephant jumped and cleared the car at the moment the trainer left it. Both escaped injury.

Placards Attacking the Sultan.

Constantinople, Aug. 17.—Placards attacking the Sultan have been posted on the mosques throughout the city, and the action has caused considerable excitement. The placards say "the present Sultan is unworthy to rule and ought to disappear. The present regime is intolerable." They conclude with the words, "justice and liberty are our principles," and are signed "Turkish Revolutionary Committee." The posting of the placards is regarded as showing that sentiment against the sultan is crystallizing and as a possible indication that an attempt is to be made upon his life. The placards are the work of the young Turkish party.

Revolt of Peasant.

Vienna, Aug. 17.—Advices fom Bucharest, Roumania, say that a general revolt of Roumanian peasants in several districts of the Russian province of Bessarabia has occurred. The peasants demand the introduction of the Roumanian langnage and the expulsion of the priests from the churches and of teachers from the schools. They also declare that all the public officers must resign.

Escaped From Asylum.

New York, August 17.—William J. Lee, of Trenton, N. J., who, sometime ago made threats against the life of Judge Vroom of the New Jersey court of Errors and was sent to the New Jersey State Insane Asylum, escaped some time last night from the Manhattan Asylum on Wards Island, where he was sent after escaping from the New Jersey institution. He is still at large.

Killed by a Policeman.

Plant City, Fla., Aug. 17.—J. B. Passmore was shot and killed last night by A. E. Elam, a night policeman. Passmore resisted arrest and first shot Elam in the shoulder and again, just before he died, in the stomach. Elam's condition is pronounced critical, and it is thought that he will die.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Aug. 17.—The stock market was more uniformly strong during the first hour than at any time since the present upward movement has been in progress. Buying orders were executed in many stocks by the highest class of brokerage houses. At the same time there was good commission buying for speculative account and an enormous amount of buying orders for odd lots.

Killed by Falling Stone.

A mass of limestone weighing thousands of tons slid from a side of the quarry of mill A of the Lehigh Portland Cement Company, at Ormond, Pa., yesterday. Twenty-seven men were at work in the quarry, which is 1,000 feet long, 150 feet across, and 100 feet deep.

The heavy rains of the past two days had softened the earth and caused the slide of rock. Where the fallen mass slipped away a smooth, nearly perpendicular wall was left, rising sheer 100 feet above the bottom of the quarry, while the entire quarry floor was covered with broken, jagged rock.

Only nine of the men got away safely, four of whom escaped by running up on a mass of rock at the opposite side of the quarry. The remaining eighteen were huddled in a space ten feet square, twelve of whom were killed and six injured. Two of the latter may die. All of the men are Slavonians, who lived in shanties close to the quarry.

Two men who saw the side of the quarry quiver shouted a warning to the men. The men misinterpreted the call and failed to move out of the zone of danger until it was too late. With a thunderous roar the mountain of rock fell, pinning the men fast. Most of the men killed or injured are single. Others had families in the old country. A number of women from the foreign colony ran to the quarry when the news of the accident reached them and their moaning and anguish was pitiable.

Railroad Men Meet.

Prominent officials of three great railroad systems have visited Elkins, W. Va., this week, and been in close communication with ex-Senator Davis and Senator Elkins. President Murray, Vice President Randolph and General Manager Fitzgerald, of the Baltimore and Ohio, took dinner with Senator Elkins and spent several hours with him Tuesday night. Vice President Shoomaker, of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie, and President J. T. Blair, of the Little Kanawha, were there Tuesday, and Vice President Landstreet, of the Western Maryland, also called on the Senator yesterday. The presence of so many prominent railroad officials is believed to be very significant, as it is unofficially announced that the consultation had to do with very important traffic arrangement and plans for extensions of a part of the proposed plan of the establishment of through passenger and freight service from Pittsburg and Elkins to Hot Springs, or Richmond, Va., and from Baltimore to Charleston, W. Va. The completion of the Little Kanawha to connect with the Coal and Coke at Burnaville, and the extension of the Coal and Coke from Elkins to deep water, at Alexandria, Va.

The will of Allan W. Wood, the Pittsburg millionaire, who died last Sunday, was filed for probate in New York today. The value of the real property is $55,000 but the value of the personal property is said to be between three and five million dollars. The estate is divided equally between his widow and the eight children of his former wife. Mrs. Wood was Goldie Lillian Moser, a former chorus girl, and she was married to Wood in March, 1904.

A very good game of ball was played yesterday afternoon between the Invincibles and Del Rays, which resulted in a tie, the score after the ninth inning being 3 to 3. The game was witnessed by a large crowd, and proved quite exciting at times. Thompson, in pitching, had the best of delivery. Some very good plays were made on both sides. Ida Fuller, colored, arrested by Officer Beach charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

Charles Jackson, colored, arrested by Officer Allen charged with assaulting Jere. L. Johnson, was fined $5.

Officers Roberts and Bettis today arrested Walter Smith and Wm. Lomax, colored, for fighting on the wharf at the foot of Duke street. The men were locked up for trial tomorrow.

Death of Old Resident.

Mrs. Bettie Genzberger, widow of Leopold Genzberger, died at her home, on Wolfe street, between Royal and Pitt, at 1:15 o'clock this morning. The deceased was one of the oldest residents of Alexandria, having came to this city with her husband on the day Franklin Pierce was inaugurated President of the United States—March 4, 1853. She was born in Adlipsen, Hanover, Germany, March 14, 1822, and was consequently in her 84th year. She leaves six children—four sons and two daughters. But one member of Mrs. Genzberger's direct family is now living—a sister, Mrs. L. Barr, of Washington. Her husband, Leopold Genzberger, died October 5, 1901.

Colored Man Drowned.

James Scott, colored, who had been employed at the works of the American Brick Company at Riverside, was drowned yesterday evening in Little Hunting creek. It was at first reported that he had committed suicide, but it is generally believed that he was bathing and went beyond his depth. Scott's body was soon recovered and the Fairfax county authorities notified, but up to one o'clock this afternoon no magistrate had appeared. A sister of the deceased is employed as a cook at Mount Vernon. Scott was a native of Charlottesville.

Personal.

Mrs. Wilkinson and Miss Sarah Wilkinson, of Fairfax, have gone to Orkney Springs to remain several weeks, and Mr. and Mrs. Reid and Miss Grace Reid, also of Fairfax are at Rawley Springs.

Mr. R. P. W. Garnett has gone on a visit to friends in Occoquan and in Essex county.

Mrs. J. E. Alexander and a number of young ladies left today to attend the Loudoun camp meeting.

Mrs. Fannie Hill, widow of Dr. J. C. Hill, was paralyzed a few days ago at her home near Pobick.

Change in the Weather.

The weather yesterday and today has been fair and cool, which affords great relief from that which for over a week had prevailed in this vicinity. The wind blew fresh from the northwest yesterday and last night, and the temperature rendered it necessary to close windows facing that point of the compass. The mercury at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 66°, and at noon 72°.

Colored Elks.

Alexandria Lodge, No. 48, B. P. O. E., colored, will participate in the parade in Washington on the 29th instant. The organization expects to have sixty members in the ranks. Past Exalted Ruler Edward Green will represent Alexandria Lodge in the Grand Lodge which is to meet in Washington.

Marrage licenses were issued in Washington yesterday to Edward W. Lynn and Ann L. Cole, both of Prince William county; Jesse D. Prosise, of Alexandria county, and Sarah D. Mankin; Benjamin L. Payne and Madolin V. Bragg, both of Albemarle county, and Herman J. Madert, of Oakton, and Sarah M. Fairfax, of Burke's Station.

We have received an invitation from the Warrenton Horse Show Association to attend their semi-annual show to be held on Wednesday and Thursday, August 30 and 31.

MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Speech of Mr. Joseph E. Willard—Large and Enthusiastic Gathering at the Opera House.

The Opera House was crowded last night with Alexandrians, Washingtonians, Fairfaxans and residents of Alexandria county to greet Mr. Joseph E. Willard, one of the candidates for Governor of Virginia. A large number of ladies were in the galleries which had been set aside for their use. The meeting was enthusiastic, and the speaker was given an earnest ovation. A band of music enlivened the scene.

Shortly after 8 o'clock Mr. Willard reached the hall escorted by a number of his Alexandria and Fairfax friends, and when they took their seats upon the stage there was loud and continued applause. Music added to the enthusiasm, and when it had ceased ex-Mayor George L. Simpson arose and formally introduced Mr. Willard to the audience. Mr. Simpson in his introductory speech said it afforded him great pleasure to see such a representative gathering of suffragans of Alexandria and of neighboring counties. In fact, it was an occasion that afforded him more than ordinary gratification, and that words were inadequate to express his feelings. He could understand this delinquency, as there were times when the eloquence of the heart was more than that of the lips; hence speech was difficult to express one's feelings—it was, in fact, impossible. There were few pleasures greater in the human curriculum than the contemplation of the patriotic joy incident to the assembly of persons who had the welfare of the city and State at heart who had gathered to welcome honest candidates, honest elections and the honest administration of the affairs of the State. The pleasure was further enhanced when the speaker looked at the large and appreciative audience which had gathered to greet a patriotic public servant in the person of Mr. Joseph E. Willard. In honoring him the glory of the old commonwealth of Virginia was receiving additional lustre. When he shall have been honored the people of the State can rest assured that no mean or sordid politician can swerve such a man from the path of rectitude, as his life and record would discourage dishonest advances. Mr. Simpson pictured the candidate as the country boy in his Fairfax home mingling with his rural acquaintances, and his entry into manhood vested with princely wealth, and said people who know him were indissolubly wedded to him. While the possessor of the greatest affluence, the subject of his observations was untainted with the many examples incident to luxurious existence. He was clean and honorable among men. The speaker, among other things, said Mr. Willard's history was interwoven with the brightest pages of the State's annals, and that the names of his ancestors would live long after his critics had ceased to exist. Mr. Simpson, in conclusion, said he would present to the audience creation's masterpiece—an honest man—and announced "the Hon. Joseph E. Willard, the next Governor of the State of Virginia."

Uproarious applause followed, and when Mr. Willard arose it was renewed and continued for some time. It finally subsided and Mr. Willard began his address. He said no man could fail to feel proud at such a reception, and that no better chaperons could have been selected than the committee who had greeted him in Alexandria. The speaker said that while he had been active in his canvass in other parts of the State, this was the first instance during the campaign when he had had the pleasure of facing his own people and pleading his cause before them. He said he did not wish anything he might say to be construed as a reflection on either of the other candidates. The democratic party owed him nothing, but that the obligations were on his shoulders, and his desire to be governor was not to gratify a personal ambition, but to further serve his party. Mr. Willard then proceeded to answer certain charges and criticisms which had been in evidence during the campaign, and among other things said that there was no foundation for the statement that he had opposed the "Jim Crow" law. He had, he said, introduced an amendment to the law to exempt a struggling little electric railroad in his county, but had voted for the bill when it was reported favorably in the House. The only interest the speaker had in the road was a contribution of $25,000 to insure its construction, and stated that he did not own a dollar's worth of the bonds or stock of the company. Capt. Willard said that he had been charged with having opposed the employers' liability bill, when, as a matter of fact, he said he had introduced an amendment to make that measure applicable to every hazardous occupation. Mr. Willard said it was true that he is not a Virginian by birth, but he said he thought he deserved more credit on that score than his opponents, because he had by choice cast his lot with Virginia and had lived in the State thirty-four years, and that if Mr. Swanson is a native and to the manner born it was no matter of choice on his part—he simply couldn't help it. He then referred to the observation that he is a wealthy man. He said that every man within his hearing was after all the wealth he could get, and he could honestly say that he did not possess a dollar that was stained with a widow's tear. He announced that he had paid for his campaign advertisements all over the State with money honestly obtained, and that he was able to pay for his own campaign expenses. He also repudiated the communication signed by Mr. Crandall Mackey, of Alexandria county, attacking Representative Swanson, and said that the article was written and published without his consent, and his money did not pay for it, but he asked : "Who paid for an article about me in Culpeper and an article sent to northern newspapers headed 'Rumseller Willard?'" Capt. Willard subsequently entered into a general discussion of the issues involved in the present campaign. He said he was "for a square deal for every man—high, low, rich, or poor,"—and promised that if he is elected governor he will be the governor of the whole people. He then paid tribute to the Confederate soldiers and said they should be aided and honored while they lived. He advocated a business administration of the affairs of the State, and declared himself in favor of two auditors, one for the receipt and the other for the disbursement of the State's funds. Mr. Willard asserted that he was the first man who came out for the single school-book list, and said Judge Mann bought a blue stencil, and put at the bottom of his letter of announcement : "I am also in favor of the single school-book list," after voting for the multiple list, which act showed his nimbleness in mounting the band wagon. Mr. Willard declared that he was in favor of the State furnishing the text-books. On the question of public roads, he advocated the employment of convict labor. Before closing Capt. Willard said that he had not dodged any issue in the present campaign, and placed himself on record as in favor of the Mann liquor law in its proper construction.

The speaker was not a prohibitionist, but in reference to the Mann law he would observe that one clause of the same savored of prohibition. It provided that in certain districts if one man protested a judge could not grant a license. "If this is not prohibition, what is it?" asked the speaker. He said that Mr. Swanson had failed to define his position in regard to the Mann bill, and that all observing men conceded that the fight for the democratic nomination for governor had narrowed down to himself and Judge Mann.

Mr. Willard's speech was constantly interrupted by applause.

Among those on the stage were Messrs. Julian T. Burke, Carroll W. Ashby, Henry F. Robertson, Henderson Carter, George Uhler, William Leadbeater, F. C. Spinks, jr., James Fitzgerald, Millard F. Vincent, William P. Woolls, jr., Peachy H. Early, William H. May, S. L. Monroe, Dulaney De Butts, John W. May, George W. Keys, Thomas A. Fisher, James Peverill, C. B. Paff, James McCuen, A. D. Brockett, S. P. Fisher, J. P. Steiner, R. B. Cline and others.

While Mr. Willard was making his introductory remarks a stranger, whom no one seemed to know, walked across the stage and handed the speaker a ten-dollar bill, with the statement that it was for the democratic campaign fund. The money was returned to the donor.

Captain Rogers' Place.

There are no new developments in the matter of the resignation of Collector of Internal Revenue Asa Rogers. It is said that efforts are now being made by friends of the collector to have the action taken by the President, on the initiative of Commissioner Yerkes, held up or withdrawn until after the November election. It is confidently expected that Judge Lewis, the republican candidate for Governor, will be able to convince the President that it would be unfortunate, on the eve of the election, to inject a factional fight or alienate the support of any considerable element of the party. It is said to be likely that the request for the resignation may be withdrawn until the election is over. It is regarded as likely that Judge Lewis and possibly others may go to see the President in connection with the matter. Among those who are mentioned as likely to be chosen for the position are Mr. William Mahone, son of the late General Mahone; General Stith Bolling, of Petersburg; Mr. M. K. Lowry, of Stafford, and others.—[Richmond Times Dispatch.

Royal Arcanum.

A dispatch from New York says it is admitted by William F. McConnell, a member of the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum, that the session of the council on August 30th will have a momentous effect on the order, for the disaffection over the new rates is still great.

The council is called for at the request of representatives from all portions of the country. It will consider the new assessments and offer opportunities for suggestions from subordinate councils. The recent action of the Supreme Council in adopting rates intended to insure the perpetuity of the order has been endorsed, but the Grand Councils desired and petitioned for this special session of the Supreme Council to satisfy the members generally.

Betting on the Primary.

A well-known wholesale merchant of this city announced, yesterday, that he was ready to wager anywhere from $1,000 to $5,000 at odds of two to one that Senator Martin will carry the State in the primary next Tuesday. One of the governor's supporters placed $100 at odds of one to two, but so far as known the rest of the money has not been covered. The same gentleman is offering even money that Martin will carry this city in the primary. There is very little betting on the result of the election, however, so far as publicly known. A number of small wagers have been made among friends on the result.—[Richmond Times Dispatch.

The Richmond News Leader says: The betting on the result in the State is still going at 2 to 1 in favor of Senator Martin and several small bets have been made.

The Chinese Boycott.

A dispatch from Shanghai says that the Chinese foreign board has ordered Chou-fu, the viceroy of Nanking, to make every effort to suppress the boycott which has now been extended to English goods, imported, it is supposed, by an American firm.

Chinese merchants have asked the general chamber of commerce to assist them to suppress the movement, fearing that serious financial trouble will result.

Much of the trade at Shanghai is already being transferred to Tientsin, where Gen. Yuan Shi Kai, viceroy of Pechili, has prohibited the boycott.

The Chinese merchant a Manila are secretly supplying the Chinese in Aloreland with funds to carry on the boycott against American goods.

United States Consul J. W. Davidson, who arrived at San Francisco Tuesday from Shanghai, says the Chinese boycott was started after the receipt in Shanghai of a cablegram from a Chinese correspondent in Washington to a native newspaper. This cablegram stated that the United States had prepared a new treaty embodied in which was exclusion of Chinese from America on a wholesale scale. Not only laborers were to be kept out of the land of the free, but also Chinese merchants, students and rice.

The Chinese officials did all they could to arrest the movement, but without any definite understanding with this government to back their arguments, and their efforts availed little. "As a matter of fact," said Mr. Davidson, "The Chinese merchants want to do business with the United States, and I do not think they intended this boycott movement to go as far as it has. The boycott, however, is being made free use of by our competitors in the far East. German, French, Belgians, English and others are now patting the Chinese merchants on the back and advising them to go ahead and pay Uncle Sam for the humiliation he has heaped upon them through his method of enforcing the exclusion act."

A Warning to Mothers.
Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the oldfashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in in case of cholera infantum. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co
